Rev. S. G. Baker - - Editor

We are glad to have any news items of interest to others besides the writer, but we cannot fill space allowed us with matters that have no other than personal interest at the back of them. Then those who would like to have long mentions made of them should subscribe for the paper, at least.

P. M. James, who has been to Daytona for several days, has returned home. But he will leave in a few days for Daytona, where he will remain for the winter.

The Rev. J. A. Davis is in the city attending to the affairs which pertain to the advancement of the interest of the Bethlehem Baptist church, of which he is pastor.

Mrs. Nellie Benton, who has been spending the summer at her home at Live Oak, has returned to the city for the winter.

The Orange City school is coming to the front. The teachers have purchased an organ for the school, which adds much to advancement of all concerned.

Jefferson Pinney, one of our citizens, died Monday. His funeral was attended at the Union Baptist church by the Rev. Wm. Morgan, and his remains were interred Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Bessie Robinson has returned from Jacksonville, where she has been for several days.

Miss Rosa Slater, after an absence of several months, has returned to the city for the winter.

The Endowment or educational money collected at Bethel church last Sunday amounted to $17.08, for which the pastor thanks the contributors and workers. The largest amount was raised by Mrs. E. B. Baker and her class of girls, the amount being $6.10.

The sad news of the sudden death of the Rev. J. L. Moore, which took place at Bradenton last Sunday, is very much regretted by his host of friends in this city, as well as those of the entire State.

Dr. D. A. Perrin held his third quarterly conference at Bethel church last Sunday. The reports showed the church to be moving along fairly well. They showed also that near $300 had been raised since July 11. His sermons were well received.

Mrs. Dilsie Dixon left Sunday for Sanford to attend the funeral of her cousin, who died last week.

Mrs. G. W. Taylor, of Glenwood, has been spending some time in the city with her relatives and friends.

The sad demise of Mr. Joseph Williams, of Glenwood, occurred last week. He was a constant reader of THE NEWS, and never failed to pay for it when he got it. He was also one of the oldest and most highly respected men in his community, and left a glorious legacy to his sons, that is a good name and good character and his life is worthy of emulation.

The niece of Mr. A. W. Wilson will be in the city in short to spend the winter. She will reside at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Bacon.

A. W. Wilson has recently purchased ten acres of land half a mile east of town. Two years hence he will cut half of it up into lots to be sold. The remainder will be kept by him. He already has a bearing grove of two acres with 250 or 300 boxes of oranges and grapefruit on it.

What's a Gentleman?

An exact definition of a gentleman has been tried many times, never perhaps with entirely satisfactory results, says the Woman's Home Companion. Little Sadie had never heard of any of the definitions, but she managed to throw a gleam of light on the subject, albeit one touched with unconscious cynicism. The word was in the spelling lesson, and I said:

"Sadie, what is a gentleman?"
"Please, ma'am," she answered, "a gentleman's a man you don't know very well."

An Escape.

Andrew Carnegie's philanthropy was being praised on the piazza of an Atlantic City hotel, says the New York Tribune.

"Mr. Carnegie," said an aged Pittsburgh clergyman, "is as profoundly religious as he is profoundly charitable. All the same."

"Mr. Carnegie attended some years ago one of my business men's weekday services. Seeing him in the congregation, and unaware that he was not used to praying extempore, I said, after the first hymn:

"We will now be led in prayer by Brother Carnegie."

"Mr. Carnegie rose, very red and flustered.

"Let us engage, first of all," he stammered, "in a few minutes of silent prayer."

"We all obediently bowed our heads and closed our eyes, and Mr. Carnegie, tiptoeing out, escaped."

Railroad Stands Pat

In the conference at Miami between the directors of the East Coast Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association and the Florida East Coast Railway officials, the latter stood pat and refused to allow any semblance of a reduction in freight rates on the immense crop of the Florida East Coast products.

The association asked for a reasonable reduction on what is considered a very high rate and showed whereby they were entitled to such reduction. The question put to the railway officials were to the point and the answers decisive and negative.

The position taken by the railway company in refusing to say that the road has been operated for the past ten years at a loss, and to reduce rates would increase the net loss. They also said they could do nothing toward assisting in getting reductions beyond Jacksonville.

To further questions the general freight agent said he preferred that the association take the matter before the railroad commission. The growers along the East Coast are very much disappointed over the outcome of the conference and are asking pertinent questions about the railway company's confidence in the railroad commission.

They also want to know why Cuban pineapples can be hauled so much cheaper than Florida products. Also why they should be called on to make up the loss occasioned by the cheap rate on foreign competitive fruit. There are many questions bothering them and they would like to have them satisfactorily answered.—Fort Pierce News.

The county commissioners of Manatee county have been enjoined from selling $250,000 good roads bonds. Refusal of a majority of the commissioners to adopt a resolution relative to the expenditure of the funds led to the application for the restraining order.
